Address of Anti-Hill Men to the National Democratic Committee.

CLEVELAND BLAMED FOR PRECIPITAT-ING THE NEW YORK "MESS."

Gov. Russell or a Western Man Could Be Elected-An Attempt to Boom the New York Senator Coughed Down-Gov. Gray's Territory Sacred From Invasion-Case Without a Precedent.

NEW YORK, March 5 .- Every member of the National Democratic Committee will re-ceive in the next few days a letter approved by the Provisional Committee of the anti-sands of Democrats are opposed to Hill, regardless of Cleveland. The letter continues "If the contesting delegation is thrown ou at Chicago and Hill is nominated, we canno answer for the result. Cleveland and nearly all the leaders will probably support the ticket, but there are many men who are little inclined to submit any further to the impositions practiced for the past few years. These men rightly regard the Hill convention a proceeding which would be set aside in a court of law for fraud and duress. In some counties these men have held off from the contesting movement for the avowed reason hat they want to see Hill nominated so as to nnish him forever. The majority against him in this state would be anywhere from 50,600 to 100,000 votes.

'If Cleveland or any leading man of his wing of the party is nominated and an organization of the State Committee forced, the opposition within the party would be a mere bagatelle. Nobody really cares for Hill, and his whole strength comes from the fact that he is supposed to be 'in it.' Tammany is held together by a mere handful of leaders, and even with them, except in the case of Bourke Cockran, it is doubtful whether there is an atom of personal feeling for Hill.

''A contest will not injure Cleveland if the trouble is taken in other parts of the country to investigate the real situation in New York. Whether it does injure him or not cannot affect the movement. Probably he is responsible for letting them (the Hill managers) get his friends into such a bad mess. Of course it would be safer to nominate the man who stands the best chance of carrying other States than New York, Whether be be Cleveland or 'somebody else. Cleveland would probably poil the most vokes here, as his great outside strength would cause the Murphy-Hill men to run to cover. But it would be as well to nominate a good Western candidate or Gov. Russell.

''In fact, we have not voted yet, and we claim the same right to contest at a national convention which our adversaries practiced when they contested county and State conventions. We claim to stand on precedent and we claim that our opponents are irregular. We are rapidly gathering in the old Tilden leaders, and if our movement develops as it has promised lately there will be no difficulty in proving in Chicago that we represent the Democratic party of the State.'

NEW YORK, March 5. - A Washington correscondent regards the sealing problem quite gravely, telegraphing his paper thus: If the condon dispatch to day touching the sealing question in Behring sea is authentic, and the State Department considers it probably true, then it can be said on excellent authority that the fur seal rookeries of our Government to the Problioff Islands is doomed to comp annihilation next season. It is stated that Lord Salisbury refuses to renew the present modus vivendi pending the arbitration proeedings, but will agree to a limitation of some thirty miles around the scaling islands.
This is a manifest absurdity on its face. It means nothing in the way of protection for the nursing females. Female seals on the islands range, in search of food, over a radius of two and three hundred miles in the sea around the rookeries, and the sealer will find more females 100 miles out from the islands in Behring Sea than he will thirty

Turner says fifty-one vessels in the province were engaged in sealing, forty-six registered in Victoria and five in Vancouver. Besides these there were sixteen now on the way from Nova Scotia. The total cost of the fifty-one now here is $400,000, and the outfit annually required costs $160,600. The number of white men actually engaged is over $60, and 341 Indians are likewise occupied. Hon. John Robson, Fremier, said the time had now come when the British Columbia Government must speak with no uncertain sound and demand her full rights. Shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon Detective Flynn arrested a mysterious Spaniard at No. 1105 Chestnut street and took him to the Four Courts, where he was placed in the holdover with considerable attempt at secrecy surrounding the proceeding. Theman had been arrested in consequence of certain telegraphic advices from the Galveston police department, received by Chief Harrigan yesterday afternoon, and but for a public appearing in a local paper, the fact of the Spaniard's firest would still be a police secret. The publication in question appeared this week in Mexeel's Weekly Stamp News of this TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.

THE MYSTERIOUS SPANIARD.

Investigation of this rather remarkable publication by a Post-Dispatch reporter this morning resulted in the discovery that it had already borne startling fruit in St. Louis. It was learned that Mr. C. H. Mekeel, proprietor of the Weekly Stamp News, which is published at No. 1007 Locust street, had, upon receipt of the above letter, immediately notified the St. Louis Police Department and also written to the Galveston parties that it would be well for them to enter at once into communication with the St. Louis police. This was done by the Galveston Chief of Police who yesterday, it is said, wired to Chief Harrigan the full particulars of the charge upon which the man "giving his name and address as Rosondo Fernandez, 173 and 175 Rul Hortaleza, Madrid, Spain," was wanted by Mr. V. Gurdji at Galveston, Tex.

This action, it would appear, was taken just in the nick of time, for at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon a mysterious Spaniard with Spanish stamps to sell appeared at Mr. Mekeel's office. Chief Harrigan had already put Detective Flynn on the case and everything was in readiness for the Spaniard's appearance, That appearance, according to the facts now developed, was decidedly dramatic in nature, and also in the events by which it was promptly followed. The Spanish gentleman who invaded Mr. Mekeel's office yesterday was accompanied by an interpreter. The two advanced at once to Mr. Mekeel's desk. Through his interpreter the mysterious Spaniard, whose nationality was unmistakable, announced that he had some rare and valuable Spanish the had some rare and valuable Spanish to the farming Spanish of a stamp-collection of apparently genuine stamps, which were calculated to fill the soul of a stamp-collector or curio-hunter with the wildest longing.

Mitchell Agrees to All the Terms Proposed by the Champion and Says He Will Be Delighted When the Match Is Made-Slavin Says He Has Been Slandered-The Fitzsimmons Maher Fight

There will be an international prize fight in There will be an international prize fight in September or October of this year if John L. Sullivan, the world's champlon, and Charles Mitchell, England's champlon prize-fighter, are in earnest when Sullivan challenges Mitchell and the Englishman accepts the challenge, as he announced he would do in conversation this morning with a Post Dispatch of Australia, to the Fitzsim inght. When Mr. Mitchell was asked if he had any reply to make to the challenge he said:

MITCHELL IS WILLING.

"I don't think Sullivan's friends will ever give him credit for extreme modesty when he proposes to fight for no less than a purse of $25,000 and a side bet of $10,000. As to my reply to this so-called challenge to fight in September I will say that there is no man living who knows better than John L. Sullivan himself that I will be delighted the day the match between us is ratified. As to the $10,000 bet on the outside, he must be crazy, or thinks I am. The purse would be quite enough for me, but I will wager myself $2,500 even money on the resuit. He proposes to name the week and terms. He has not got the fixing of the stake. It does not matter how the draw came about; we were there in the ring and he was the one who begged for a draw. He says he does not care about the championship. Neither dol. But if he wants to fight me for a purse and less than $3,000 side bet I will fight for St a side, prize ring rules, open to $10,000 si should think ne would be delighted, from year the says, to get another whack at me. If am not in the ring to fight so much the better for him. He will not get hurt. Now all he has to do is to accept the offer of a purse. I'll fight in Queensbury rules a New Orleans club and putiup a side bet six weeks previous to the day of contest or on the day of signing the articles. If this is a bluff the time will soon roil by when he can brand me as an arrant coward. But alive I will be there and as I said prior to my fight with him in France, he will at her conclusion of the hattle be in the ring much to his cost physically and financially. All 1 ask now of the harden press and public is to deal fairly with me until such time as facts leave nothing in doubt. You will notice that sullivan wishes to have everything to suit himself; the time, the place, the purse and the side bet. Now, I will make all those concessions and even right in a sixteen-foot ring if he will pay me for the privileges. I should have something to say, but I will let him say it all if he will give me hard cash for what I allow him. If h

Information is wanted of Lirrie Coleman, who

Maher fight?"

"It was the worst show I ever saw. Maher its a rank coward. He had the advantage of Fitz, but he was not in it after the first round. The chief point in prize fighting is to time your opponent when he strikes, and knows when to get back at him. Maher did not know until after he was hit that Fitz was striking at him, and then he strick back, but Fitz was always out of reach. He showed that he was absolutely ignorant of ring tactics, and appeared to have no generalship at all. Fitz is a general, and made great points in getting out of the way. After the second round Maher was beaten but I never saw a fighter, a real fighter, give in until he was licked. The papers tell of Fitz giving Maher terrible punishment in the face. All he did was to poke him in the mouth every minute to keep the blood coming and scare him. I say, and you will find others who will say it also, that there were not twenty blows struck in the whole twelve rounds. The men kept poking at each other all through the fight."

"Do you think the victory placed Fitzsimmons in the heavy-weight class of good fighters?"

"Do you think the victory placed Fitzsimmons in the heavy-weight class of good fighters?". The heavy-weight class of good fighters?". So you good deal. James Hall and Ted Fritchard are in his class. Corbett and Choynski I've never seen in the ring, but Hall and Fritchard I know and I am pretty sure they can do Fitzsimmons without any trouble. I don't think this victory has placed Fitzsimmons one peg higher in the scale as a fighter."

The Secretary of State Suddenly Pros

trated by the Grip.

Washington, D. C., March 5.—Secretary Blaine's friends have experienced considerable uneasiness within the past two or three days concerning the condition of his health. The truth is, the Secretary of State has been quite sick for several days. As is well known, Mr. Blaine is easily fretted and his friends have no doubt that the worry over the separation of his son from over the separation of his son from over the separation of his son from his wife and subsequent developments which now seem on the eve of giving the personal affairs of members of the Blaine family the widest publicity, have much to do with the statesman's condition.

The following official statement as to his condition was given out at the State Department to day: "Secretary Blaine is a victim of the grip. He was taken Wednesday quite suddenly and severely. His fever was high on Thursday and Friday. He was much better this morning and hopes to be about in a few days."

The new turn of affairs in the Behring Sea dispute renders the filness of the Secretary especially unfortunate just now.

visible improvement this morning. The patient is still very much prostrated, and the greatest care is being exercised to prevent the possibility of a relapse.

Dr. John A. Vincent of Springfield. III. The family physician of Mr. Springer, arrived this morning and was immediately called in consultation with the resident physicians who have been attending the Congressman in this city. At the conclusion of this consultation, and after a critical examination of his patient, Dr. Vincent made the following statement:

"The condition of Mr. Springer is very much improved, and while I might say that he is practically out of danger, yet as a matter of fact, founded upon professional experience, a man is not out of danger in a case of this kind until he passes the will probably be several days before Mr. Springer passes that point, as he must build up his lost strength and vigor. He is so completely prostrated now that a very little improduce or a slight mistake would cause a relapse which might prove stail. The method of treatment of the Washington physicans, I want to say, has been in perfect accord with my own views and the case, in my opinion, has been done that could be done or that could be safely suggested by science and there is perfect agreement and concurrence of opinion between myself and the attending physicians."

Suit Against the City and Sanitary

JUDGE KLEIN HEARING TESTIMONY IN THE NUISANCE CASE TO-DAY.

Fred Mayer Claims That the Fertilizer Company Does All in Its Power to Prewent the Stench-A Suit for a Benefit Certificate Develops Strange Family Relations-Court News.

Judge Klein is engaged to-day hearing the njunction suit of the A. B. Mayer Manufacturing Co. against the city and Chief Sanitary Officer Charles W. Francis. The Mayer Mannfacturing Co. conducts a fertilizing manuseeking to enjoin the city from sup water of the establishment. The drain question extends across Second street uneath the tracks of the Wabash derneath the tracks of the Wabash Railway, and connects with the city sewer. Lubke & Muench represent the manufacturing company, and City Counselor Marshall is defending the suit.

Fred Mayer, the son of A. B. Mayer, occupied the witness stand this morning and testined as to how the establishment was conducted. He stated the waste water was collected in tanks and subjected to a process of stam pressure to serve the purpose of desication to prevent offensive odors, before the water was discharged. He said there were needers from the establishment.

"Do you say that this water has no odor?" asked Mr. Marshall.

o, I dqn't say that," replied the witness. "The vapors arising from the waters have odors, but the water is not exposed to veyed from the establishment through a pe. The establishment formerly drained its ste water into Gin Grass Creek, but that Health Department had closed up the

According to Mr. Mayer's testimony, every precaution was taken to prevent the escape of dors while the waste water was on the premises of the fertilizing establishment and while it was being conveyed to the city sewer. But the fact then became apparent from Mr. Mayer's testimony that the water coming in contact with the air became offensive and the vapors given forth finding exit through the city.

The object of the meeting was to discuss the question of rates to Mexico, both by the way of Mobile and by the way of the Mexican Central. The New York water route has, unntil recently, obtained the greater part of the business, but the rates were too low to be profitable and an advance was ordered. This increased the traffic by way of Mobile, and it is now deemed best to attempt a reduction on the southwestern lines. What this reduction will be is a question to be decided, the amounts varying from 20 to 25 per cent. When he interrogated the children's names were Joe, Gus and Anita George, the oldest being 12 years old. Their appearance was not so picturesque as the ordinary stage gypsies, neither were their actions as attractive. They wore an air of unfamiliarity with regular meals and soap and water. He said that his father, Guido, and his mother, Marian, belonged to a tribe of gypsles who lived in Australia. Some years ago for some unknown reason they were driven from their homes, and the little fellow remembered seeing their tents set afire. The band, consisting of twelve men, twelve women and thirty-six children, embarked for Africa. They landed somewhere on the coast and traveled for many months through strange countries. The little fellow remarked with admirable naivete that his sister was born in the Lybian Desert. From Africa they got to France and traveled through that country till they again struck the sea. This time they embarked for South America, landing at Rio Janeiro, where the youngest of the three was born. Across Brazil the party wandered up the Isthmus into Mexico, then across into Texas while the lad remembered working the town of San Antonio and thence up to Missouri. The band, he says, are now stationed at Louisiana this State. But his father had some trouble with the chief of the band named Stanley and took his wagon and left. At Middleton the father deserted his children and they have been begging and stealing their way around the country for the past week. They got across the river and walked into East St. Louis yesterday, but Chief Walsh had them escorted across the big bridge. Officer Weinacht picked them up asleep at the bridge approach this morning and prought them to the Mayor's office. His Honor listened to their story with an amused air and extended them the hospitalities of the House of Refuge.

Facts learned from young Plumb and others concerning the strange marriage are as follows: "I was working on the street," said the bridegroom," when I was approached by a saloon-keeper whom I knew. He said, 'Plumb, you are the very fellow I have been looking for all day.' I inquired what was up and he said: 'Come on and take a drink and I will tell you all about it.' We had just one drink and then he explained to me that there was an old lady at the Stowell House who wanted to get married dead bad. He said she didn't want to live with her husband, but just wanted to stiff. I said if there was anything in it for me I'd go in, and the saloon-keeper said I could come down to the Stowell House and see the old woman for myself."

The party went down to the hotel, where a man representing the old lady was found, and introductions followed. The lady said her name was Amanda Benutey, and that she was 70 years old. Her age was afterward fixed at 61 in the marriage certificate. She toid young Plumb that if he would go through the ceremony she would pay him $10. He said that was better than working on the street at $1.25 a day, and he and the old lady's man of business, who gave his name as J. A. Dart, started and got the license. The marriage followed immediately.

There are several stories afloat concerning the old lady. It is said that her husband's will provides that should she not marry again the fortune, which rumore-places at from $10,000 to $150,000, should go to his heirs, but cutting off his own son. But in the event of her marriage the money should on her death go to their son. Serious trouble is brewing on the Levee at the foot of Vine street. The steamer Idlewild has for the past two weeks been giving employment to non-union firemen and engineers. The rate of pay for firemen is $40 engineers. The rate of pay for firemen is $40 a month for both union and non-union men, and that of union engineers $60 for first and $75 for second engineers, while the non-union engineers are receiving $90 and $75. The only difference in the wages between union and non-union men is the pay of first engineers, the union men being paid $10 per month more than non-union engineers.

Yesterday the union men waited on the wharf for the non-union men to put in an appearance, and when they arrived a general row ensued. The timely interference of the police prevented bloodshed. The union men retired from the scene, threatening vengeance on the non-union men. The union men fear that the example of the Idlewild's owners in reducing the first engineers' pay $10 per month will be followed by other boats and it is to prevent this that the present trouble is waged.

Every one suffers from Catarrh in the Head. Those who don't have it suffer from those who do. It's a disease you can't keep to yourself.

Here are some of the symptoms: Headache, obstruction of nose, discharges falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody, putrid, and offensive; eyes weak, ringing in ears, deafness; offensive breath; smell and taste impeired, and general deblity. Only a few of these likely to be present at once. The cure for it—for Catarrh itself, and all the troubles that come from it—a perfect and permanent cure, is Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. The worst cases yield to its mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties. A record of twenty-five years has proved that to its proprietors—and they're willing to prove it to you.

They do it in this way: If they can't cure your Catarrh, no matter how bad your case, or of how long standing, they'll pay you $300 in cash. Can you have better proof of the healing power of a medicine?

"There is nothing better to relieve the PAIN and ITCHING, and CAUSE RETRACTION of PILES, than POND'S EXTRACT and POND'S EXTRACT OINTMENT. Either the fluid or the ointment has the astringent and soothing effect required, and is a very useful preparation. In fact for this purpose they are best used together."

WHAT THE PATIENT SAYS:

"For 40 years I have been an inof which had a tendency to alleviate, not cure. First attacked with BLIND PILES, which annoyed me for years; BLEEDING PILES followed, which frequently confined me to the bed, leaving me unfit for business. Within a few days they have attacked me in full force, and that most excruciating of the hemorrhoid family, the ITCHING PILES, superseded both. Having become possessed of some POND'S EXTRACT, I applied it freely, undiluted. Had Heaven and Earth come together I would not have been more surprised. I never dreamed of a cure. Three times only have I reserted to POND'S EXTRACT, and the ITCHING PILES vanished as if is the only known remedy in the wide world for the ITCHING PILES. My statement is unsolicited," - THOMAS

A DESIRABLE OBJECT.

There is one point in favor of the consti tutional amendment providing for the election of Senators directly by the people which its opponents cannot break down. This point is the desirability of freeing the election of State legislators and the work of State Legislatures from the influences of senatorial contests.

Doubtless the ideal which the found ers of the Government had in view when they adopted the system of having Senators elected by the State Legislatures was that these bodies would, without previous bias, come together and calmly and judiciously select senatorial representatives for the State. But this idea is destroyed and is impossible of establishment in the whirling scramble of practical politics. Every intelligent citizen knows that the sessions of legislatures are frequently rendered worthless, sometimes more than worthless, injurious to the State by the periodical necessity of electing Senators. When Senators are to be elected the contests for the seats become the predominating issue in the legislative campaigns and candidates are chosen, not with reference to their fitness or the soundness of their opinions on State matters, but solely upon their connection with a senatorial machine or friendliness to one or another candidate for the Senate. Frequently long and costly sessions are entirely devoted to the deciding of bitter senatorial fights and the States thus lose altogether the services of up to him, as he stood at the desk of Clerk their legislators. The temptation afforded by the election of Senators by the Legislature to gerrymander legislative districts in such a manner as to best serve the ends of

The German imperial Government, after denying the existence of starvation, now proposes to employ the starving people on war preparations. Distress is to be relieved by work which is not only unproductive, but positively destructive. This is the policy which is largely responsible for the present condition, and if continued will make things still worse. If population is pressing on subsistence in Germany it is the more necessary to cut down the army of uniformed idlers and let them produce a little something for themselves. If there is not enough to keep productive work, as well as stamp is seldom at hand. The service would be a valuable one, however, if, as proposed, ten cents worth of ordinary idleness for a "war-lord's" glory.

This cannot be denied but neither does the House always represent the people. The present Congress is probably more nearly representative, but it, too, may be at odds with the election of 1890. Holloway will sleep at home to-night for first time since he was arrested after Gov. Francis refused to withdraw the requisition he had ssued at the request of Gov. Jones of Ala-ama. Thursday and Friday the habeau corpus proceedings instituted by Chester H. Krum to prevent the Alabama sheriff from trylag Holloway down South, were before Judge Fisher. This morning the whole matter came up afresh before Judge Withrow. Chief of Detectives William Desmond, De tective Ziegier and Sheriff Young brought Holloway into court and sat near him. Judge Withrow came into court promptly at 16 o'clock and as soon as court had opened said: 'Are the parties ready to proceed in the nabeas corpus case?

A wait of five minutes, and State's Representative Orrick C. Bishop appeared with some of the return papers, the ink just dried. Chief of Detectives Desmond came Charles McEntire, and signed the return to be made by him. Assistant Police Chief Patrick Reedy, acting in the place of Chief Harrigan, had sent his return by Mr. Bishop 'I wish to state, your Honor,' said Mr.

Judge Withrow decided to let Mr. Krum go on, reserving temporarily his ruiling. The prisoner's attorney then introduced the papers whose presentation to Gov. Francis had caused his warrant for Holloway 'sarrest to be issued, and the constitution of the State of Alabama. Then he made his points.

THE CHARGE AGAINST HOLLOWAY.
The constitution of Alabama, he said, provided that no proceeding should take place against a person charged with a felony, except by indictment. The papers issued by the Governor were based on an affidavit made before a judge of an Alabama court. The affidavit sought to charge the commission of felony. The proceedings in Alabama were absolutely a nullity, as no offense was charged. The affidavit absolutely charged no offense whatever under any law known to

JNO. A. B. The Board of Lady Managers. To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch: The comments of your paper on an article headed "The Woman's Board" give a totally wrong impression of what follows. I have been asked for some time past to give a statement that would show the woman's department that would show the wouldn't department was not a fancy, but reality. But in doing this no word of mine, expressed or implied, bore any evidence of my being "exercised" over any "postion" of either the "misculine" or feminine members of my commission, all of whom are using their united efforts to further the interests of the State. On the contrary, I stated that the ability of the gentlemen of the Commission to manage the exhibit could not be questioned, to which I add now their ability to distribute the $150,000 appropriation, even though there be none of it given to the Woman's Department, because personally I should deplore any separate exhibit, our work being to help make the best possible showing for the State. In all communities and districts in peace as well as in war, there is an element that may be classed as "stay at home," whose chief energies are directed to criticising the few who do the work. To that element I paid my respects, because if there be 20,000 available dollars, outside of the State appropriation of $150,000, it would be well to secure it in the interest of a State exhibit, which, to be a success, must embrace the efforts of every man. woman and child in Missouri. ent was not a fancy but it in the interest of a State exhibit, which, to be a success, must embrece the efforts of every man, woman and child in Missouri. The class in physical culture, formed by Mrs. Clara Holbrook Smith last November, has crystallized into an organization that has been named the "St. Louis Physical Culture Club." The ladies have been meeting weekly at the homes of the members for practice and the discussion of subjects of interest in line with physical culture. Everything pertaining to correct living, such as dress, food; sanitation, etc., are within the purview of the society. Several ladies m the Second Baptist Church are prominent in the movement, and last Wednesday the club met at the residence of Mrs. Dr. J. W. Ford. "Well I do not think the Mayor will place either his friends in the Council or Mr. Swift in an awkward position that might be avoided. My impression is that Mr. Swift's name will be withdrawn and Dr. Brennan substituted. I indee so from name will be withdrawn and Dr. Brennan substituted. I judge so from the fact that Mr. Swift is reported not to want the office and the Mayor is anxious to substitute Dr. Brennan. I am not personally acquainted with the doctor and cannot say what action the Council will take on his confirmation." The question was then put to Mr. Horton: "Do you think that Lindsay and Holman will be retained?" Mr. Horton paused for a moment and then said: "I can see nothing now that will cause the Council to recede from their former position regarding those two gentlemen." "But the other appointments will all go through?"

"Yes, they will all be reported and acted upon as quickly as possible."
Notwithstanding Mr. Horton's statement it is rumored that Engineer Brown will come before the Council for the office of Water before the Council for the office of Water Commissioner. A gentleman well posted on the affairs of the new combine said this morning; "The Water Commissioner's office was the cause of all those caucuses. Wehner and James held out for Holman's scalp, and they were promised it. Their reasons? I think, the Northwestern Improvement Association is at the bottom of it." John Lindsay seems to be secure in his place. But the whole matter is in a doubtful state and the new combine grow very wary when either of the names is broached to them.

This wil lenable the board to begin work in time to have the houses ready by Aug. I. Mr. Burnet laid his plans and "estimates before the Comptroller and said: "There's no use mincing matters. We are going to dothis thing well, and it will cost between $10,000 and $12,000 for each bath-house." "All right," said the Comptroller. "When the assessments come in, and we find what money we have, you can have your appropriation if it can be spared. "I'll tell you how money can be saved in priation if it can be spared.

"I'll tell you how money can be saved in this matter," added the Comptroller. "It's going to cost you a good deal to buy property. Why not take it where it can be had for nothing? There is Exchange Square up on nothing? There is Exchange Square up on the compared to Kansas City, due to the compared North Market street. I've been looking over that property, and I think it's just the locality for a bath house."

"Well, we have another piece of ground down in South St. Louis," chimed in Mr. Burnet, "that was donated to the city for a market house. It has been idle for years, and can never be devoted to its original purpose. The barons might allow us to use it for abath house."

"That would leave only the central site to be purchased," said the Comptroiler, "and there's the rub. Just where to locate it and then to get hold of the property without letting our purpose be known or the ground will advance enormously in price. price.
"What kind of a tank do you intend hav-ing?" asked Gen. Stevenson.
"I'm figuring on a concrete basin," said Mr. Burnet.
"Well, it won't do," the General blurted.

'she'll crack and won't hold water a month. Get a copper tank, something that will stand you forever. You can have the money for you forever. You can have the money for it."

Mr. Burhet was not at all averse to the idea but rather favored it as the varying temperature of the water would be trying on the concrete. Mr. Burnet assured the Comptroller that he would lifave the plans and specifications ready by April 1 and have several competent builders make careful estimates on the cost so as to have the whole matter in shape by the time the first appropriation bill is framed. "I don't think forty or fifty thousand dollars is too much for three bathhouses,, said the President, "when we remember that in New York and London they cost from forty to one hundred and fifty thousand dollars each."

"If the money is in the treasury," said the Comptroller, "it is yours."

At last night's Council meeting Mr. Arnstein introduced a resolution tending to warm the collar of Mr. Horton. It set forth that the Vice-President had himself elected that the Vice-President had himself elected through misrepresentation to the various Councilmen, that after his election he appointed himself chairman of the Committee on Public Improvements and had violated parliamentary rules by refusing to recognize his antagonists and attempting to choke off debate. In lieu of all these off debate. In lieu of all these facts, the resolution called for the vacation of the vice-presidency. Mr. Arnstein supported his resolution with a telling speech. Mr. Horton was beginning to look uncomfortable when Mr. Hoolan came to his relief with a motion to lay on the table, which was carried by a vote of 7 to 5, Horton voting with the majority.

The Council then proceeded to business, a number of new bills being introduced.

A message was received from the House of Delegates stating their refusal to recode from the amendment to the deficiency appropriation bill, by which $4,50 is set aside to fuifill the Merz contract. Mr. Bensiak moved to concur and Mr. Cole-moved to adhero. Mr. Cole's motion was defeated. The bill was engrossed, signed and preparad for the Mayor's signature. A House resolution to pay lower Grove Park employes $1.50 for eight hours' work per day was passed.

When the reports from committees came up the Committee on Public Improvements reported favorably on the nomination of George B. Reid for Building Commissioner. On motion the report was unanimously adopted. The Sanitary Committee came next and chairman James said: "No report."

"I see by the papers you thought I was going to steal these," said the ex-Secretary in an angry voice. "Here they are, sir," and he turned on his heel. Secretary Osmer looked a trifie disconcerted and attempted to explain matters. "No apologies, sir," said Mr. Little, with a wave of his hand as he passed out and banged the door after him.

The bundle of books that seemed to be the cause of all the excitement was a stack of indexes, which the secretaries are expected to prepare every year, containing a directory All the Mayor's Men Will Most Probably Be Confirmed—Money for New Bath Houses.

The confirmation of George B. Reed, the Mayor's appointment for Building Commissioner, by the Council last night was the first step taken towards putting through all the Mayor's appointment. The reason Mr. Reed was put through before the others is idue in a great measure to Concilman Cullinane's hard fight for his friend and also to the fact that Commissioner Furlong, foreseeing the Inevitable, petitioned the Council to relegate him to private life. Mr. Furlong experience of the surprise party occurred, and when the council to relegate him to private life. Mr. Furlong experience when the surprise party occurred, and when the Council's action and said it would give him an opportunity to attend to his profession, which was more lucrative and less harassing than his official duties.

Signed By the Mayor. The Mayor affixed his signature to the de-Comptroller Stevenson leaning over his shoulder. The smile that relaxed the stern old general's features spread all over the hall and as the news permeated the different departments joy reigned supreme in many hearts. It meant that the boys could call on the Treasurer and gather in their salary that had been withheld from them for two months. The clerks in the Repairs Division of the Street Department and a number of the day laborers were the greatest sufferers. The appropriation also filed a long felt want in the Plumbing, Recorder, Water and Park Departments.

Prof. Frank Gecks gave a violin solo. Dr. Prof. Frank Gecks gave a violin solo. Dr. Hugh Harkins sang "Kathleen Mavourneen." and Miss Nora O'Brien followed with a soprano solo. Bro. Elzear, Vice-President of the Christian Brothers' College, gave Emmet's speech from the dock with much spirit and eloquence; James J. Rohan and Miss Adelaide Kaikman sang solos which were roundly applauded and received an encore. Miss Addle O'Connell gave a medley of Irish airs on the plano and Miss Dorothy Quinlan rendered several appropriate selections on the violin. Mr. Ambrose P. McQuirk then delivered the address of the evening. He paid a high tribute to the patriotism of the Irish of St. Louis, and in the most glowing terms painted the glories of American freedom. He drew in contrast a dark picture of Irish misrule, and dwelt eloquently upon the name and the career of Emmet. His peroration was an appeal for aid and for a united Irish party, whenever occurs a dissolution of Parlament.

Patrick F. Clark recited "Erin's Fag," and for an encore delivered John Boyle O'Reilly's poem, "Released." Tony Sago Marsino received a double encore for his specialities, an imitation of Emmet's cuckoo song and his recitation of several Italian dialect pieces. Dr. Hugh Harkins closed the festivities with a dramatic rendition of "God Save Ireland!" in which the sudience joined.

OF ADVANTAGE TO ST. LOUIS.

For some time past the St. Louis dealers in seed, especially those in millet and flaxseed, have been working under a disadvantage as latter place in this line has been built up at the expense of St. Louis. The method by railroad men as rebilling. This was allowed the Kansas City merchants and refused those of St. Louis. If a Kansas City grain dealer represented to the railroads that he had received a certain lot of seed from a Western point, the road would allow the shipment of it east, for instance to St. Louis, at the same proportionate rate as if shipped direct. The rates direct from Kansas City are 20 cents a hundred to St. Louis, but by the rebilling process are reduced to 13th cents. The St. Louis dealers wishing to ship east had to pay the same rate whether the seed originated at this point or had been brought from the West, and thus were placed at a great disadvantage. Many complaints have been made without effect, but at last the railroad lines have agreed to correct the injustice. In the early part of the week the Western Freight Association entered into an agreement to stop the rebilling privilege as regards all commodities except grain and its products, under which are classed four, meal and bran. This agreement shuts out hay, potatoes, flax-seed, millet, sorehum seed and castor peans railroad men as rebilling. This was allowed Neoraska and Kansas seeds will be diverted to St. Louis, and the resultant increase in the St. Louis trade is calculated by Kansas City men themselves to amount to 4,000 car loads a year. Local dealers estimate the increase much more liberally, and are correspondingly jubliant.

They Were Arrested in a Bunch and Were All Fined. The cake walk at the Exposition last evening was easily excelled by the performance of a sextet of old women at the Second Dis rict Police Court this morning. Officers Regan and Mahon captured them in one hand last evening at 1836 Morgan street, and they were marched out of the cage together this morning.

SEEN IN SEDALIA.

Jim Davis, the Negro Implicated In the Taylor Outrage.

Hour After the Crime-Tracked to

SEDALIA, Mo., March 5.—There is now hardly a doubt that the police are on the right track in the Taylor outrage and robbery case. Ex-convict "Jim" Davis of Clinton, Mo., is believed by all to be the negro brute who criminally assaulted Mrs. Chas. G. Taylor in the presence of her husband on the night of Tuesday, Feb. 23. The circumstantial evidence implicating Davis as the guilty man is almost without a flaw, and the Post-Dispatch correspondent is now the first to be tial evidence implicating Davis as the guilty man is almost without a flaw, and the Post-Disparch correspondent is now the first to be able to give that evidence, link by link, as it is now gathered in the hands of the secret service department of the M., K. & T. R. R. and the Sedalia police.

The fact of ex-convict Davis's disappearance from his home at Clinton on the Monday night just preceding the Sedalia outrage, and of his failure to reappear there since the commission of that diabolical crime, has already been published. But, until to-day, it has not been given out that "Jim" Davis was seen and recognized in Sedalia on the very night that young Mrs. Taylor was assaulted, that he is known to have boarded a passing freight train at 20 clock a. m. of Wednesday, Feb. 24, only one hour after that assault, that he was seen to leave that train at Nevada, Mo., also on Wednesday, and that he has been traced step by step to Texas since that time.

It is now said to be a dead certainty that Davis will be located and captured either at some point in the Indian Territory, or that, doubling on his tracks, he will go back to Atchison, Kan., a favorite haunt of his, where officers are also now in waiting on the chance of his turning up at that place. The only open question in the minds of the M., K. & T. secret service men who are tracking the negro ex-convict is whether he will be captured dead or alive.

negro ex-convict is whether he will be captured dead or alive.

This question arises owing to the well-known desperate character of the hegro. As soon as Chief Special Agent John J. Kinney of the M., K. & T. Secret Service was put in possession of the startling-vidence, connecting "Jim" Davis with the Sedalla outrage he saw that he had a bold and daring criminal to follow, one who would not allow himself to be easily taken into custody. Without making public the Davis clue, Kinney, announcing that he had received important news from Detective Taylor at Denison, Tex., left Sedalla hurriediy on last wednesday night for Denison, and has himself joined in the pursuit of Davis in that section. Since then only one telegram has been received in Sedalla from Kinney. It came to hand late yesterday afternoon, and announced positively that he was on the richt track, and that the Davis clue was a straight one.

The Davis clue was given to Kinney in a

With Ferrin as guide, an officer was at once detailed to locate Jim Davis, it possible. The first point visited was Mount Olivet, thirty miles northwest of Sedalla, where Ferrin said himself and Jim Davis had frequently hidden with relatives when dodging officers of the law. No trace of the negro ex-convict was next made to Atchison, Kan., where Davis was well known. This, also, was without result, as it was learned that Davis had not been seen there for some weeks.

In the meantime the secret service officers and the Sedalla police had been at work in sedalla to better purpose. It was learned that Inavis was known in Sedalla, as he appears to have been at many points along the allroad line in that portion of the State. Investigation was at once started to

Chief of Police Prentice to-day told the Post-Disparance correspondent that they had unquestionable evidence of Jim Davis' presence in Sedalia on that night. He also stated that they had the evidence of the trainmen of a freight train which passed through Sedalis at 2 o'clock Wednesday morning, Feb. 24, only one hour after the assault had been committed on Mrs. Taylor, that a negro answering Davis' description in every respect had boarded the train and got off later that day at Nevada. New peas, beans, tomatoes and cucumbers from Florida came in this week, but are extravagantly high-priced for small pocketbooks.

Asparagus is cheaper and sells at 25 cents for three fine sized bunches. New potatoes a little larger than an acorn, 25 cents for as many as will go into a quart cup. New sweet potatoes cost 5 cents each. New peas not any larger than the smallest collar button cost a quarter a quart. New cucumbers that have a stronger grip on a weak stomach than the grip has on the Broadway cable can be had for a nicel each. They are just from Florida and are too young to grow whiskers. Strawberries are 50 cents a quart, too high priced for any except the "One Hundred." New tomatoes sell at 5 cents each. New spring beans, 25 cents a quart.

it was the intention of his friends who sen him here that he should go the Baptist Sani tarium, on Bell and Taylor avenues, where he had been treated once before. The con-ductor of the train had charge of him, or had at least been requested to look after him and see that he reached St. Louis in safety and see that he reached St. Louis in safety and also to place him in the hands of some one after reaching here who would accompany him to the Sanitarium. Philips tried to get away from the conductor as soon as the train arrived at the Union Depot, but was caught after a lively chase, when officer Condon took charge of him and escorted him to the City Dispensary. Here the young man claimed that he was perfectly sane, and had played the insanity dodge at home merely to be sent to St. Louis. His friends there had made up a purse of $100 to meet his traveling expenses and pay for a few weeks' board at the Baptist Sanitarium. Dr. McMilians was of the opinion that he had only been shamming crazy at home and so reported to the police authorities. Phillips was first locked up at the Four Courts, but later in the evening he was sent out to the Sanitarium. Early this morning the fellow succeeded in making his escape from the institution, and now the police are looking for him again. He is about 25 years old, and of rather slim build. He wears a black slouch hat.

Gen. Geo. W. Jones.

Gen. Geo. W. Jones, the first Senator from lowa, a man who has been a Judge, a Minister abroad and has served this country in various capacities, was admitted to the bar in Des Moines one day last week, and at the age of 90 takes up again the practice of law. He has passed through many and exciting scenes, but he appears as ready and willing to begin life now as he was when he presented in Congress the act organizing the Territory of Wisconsin in 1836. It is pleasant to reflect that Senator from Iowa, a man who has 1836. It is pleasant to reflect that these old pioneers are with us. It shows that a man may resist the frosts of age if he will but take care of himself. The danger to be apprehended from old age is taking cold. If old people will but take REID'S GERMAN COUGH AND KIDNEY CURE they will escape all danger from this source. This great remedy is the best thing for all maladies of the throat and lungs that was ever the throat and lungs that was ever put upon the market. CORBETT BACKSOUT.

The Pompadour Pugilist Will Not Meet Joe Choynski.

JAMES SAYS NOBODY WAS AUTHORIZED TO MAKE THE MATCH.

He Is Tired of Whipping His Little Fellow-Californian, But Will Fight Any Man on Earth Who Will Not Fight Him-Base Ball, Horse Racing and Other

im Corbett says he has authorized no one to nake a match for him with Choynski and that he will not fight him, having already bested him four times. Corbett expresses a willingness to meet Fitzsimmons or the nner of the Jackson-Slavin match.

winner of the Jackson-Slavin match.

The match was made for Corbett by h is backer, Phil Dwyer, the well-known Brooklyn turfman, Bud Renaud, the celebrated New Orleans sport who is to back Choynski, representing the latter. It was in the rooms of the Central Club of New Orleans that the agreement was drawn up and signed, and the articles call for a fight at one of the New Orleans athletic clubs inside of sixty days and a deposit of $2,50 a side, to be made with whoever is to be selected stakeholder, the balance of the stake to be deposited thirty days from date, the fight to be pay or play. Mr. Dwyer furthermore made a bet of $500 a side with Humphrey, the San Francisco bookmaker, that the latter would not bet him $4,000 against $5,000 that Choynski would win. This was equivalent to Dwyer betting $5,000 to $3,500 that Corbett would defeat Choynski.

hoynsk!. It was thought that Corbett had been final-It was thought that Corbett had been finally trapped into fighting, but it was a vain hope. The windy Californian has again slipped the noose, and now proposes to fight fitzsimmons or the winner of the Slavin-Jackson battle. He well knows that Fitz is not likely to want to engage in a contest with a man of Corbett's size and weight and unquestioned eleverness unless he finds it impossible to get on a meeting with an "easier mark." If Fitz makes a match with Corbett or any man in the heavy-weight championship class, which the Californian is, notwithstanding his boastfulness, it will not be for a long time at least, as the New Zealander naturally does not want to meet anybody whom he thinks stands a good chance of defeating him, as a defeat would injure him as an attraction on the road and also materially reduce the size of purses he could seeme for fights. Corbett there-meet anybody whom he thinks stands a good chance of defeating him, as a defeat would injure him as an attraction on the road and also materially reduce the size of purses he could secure for fights. Corbeit therefore knows that he cannot get a match with Fitz for months to come at least. Slavin and Jackson do not fight until May 30, and it will probably be a few months later before either will be willing to fight again. Besides the winner will look for bigger game than Corbett and will want to fight Sullivan, as defeating the latter would be a much greater glory as well as a far greater financial strike. Mr. Corbett is, therefore, back in his old attitude of wanting to fight any man in the world except a man who is willing to fight him. He has defeated Choynski before, but Mose Gunst, the well-known San Francisco pugliistic patron, is authority for the statement that the men never had but one ring encounter. Corbett claims to have bested Choynski four times. If this is true, three of the times must have been little informal bouts in symnasiums where no money was up—mere friendly set-tos. His defeat of Choynski counts for little anyhow, as the latter was an undeveloped bey when he met him and nothing like the fighter he now is. Two or three years is a vast difference in age between boys, but cuts no material figure when they are fully developed men. If Choynski so easy a mark for Corbett why does not the latter take advantage of this opportunity to win a large amount of money with so little trouble? If Corbett had any prospect of an immediate match with any other fighter by defeating whom he would gain greater fame his objection would be well taken, but Choynski is the best man, Charley Mitchell excepted, who is in a position to meet him for months to come. He has plenty of time to fight Choynski before any other more worthy puglist is in a position to meet him Choynski stands ready to fight Corbett and the latter merely wants to avoid entering the ring, preferring to do his fighting in the columns of the press.

drop him when he finds out what kind of a man the Californian really is. But this will make little difference to Corbett, as a non-fighting pugilist needs no backing. Pompadour Jim merely utilized Dwyer in carrying out his bluffs.

DOES FITZ PEAR HALL? ned a drug store at this place and are ndid sale on CUTICURA REMEDIES. Jim Hall, the Australian middle-weight. Fitz carefully refers all who inquire concerning a match with Hall to Carroll, and the latter says that they want a match with Ted Pritchard, and if the New Zealander meets Hall at all, it will have to be at 154 pounds and for a side bet of $5,000. Fitz will not meet Hall at catch weights, and knows the latter will have difficulty now in training down below 158 pounds without greatly weakening himself. Besides Fitz and Carroll also know that Hall having never fought in America, may have a great deal of difficulty in securing backing of $5,000 to fight a man who has made the record the New Zealal.der has here. Hall is reported to be very anxious for the match and clubs are willing to offer a large purse for the go.

John O'Brien, the Welch middleweight, offers to fight Pritchard at 11 stone 4 pounds, for a purse of £500 and £200 a side. Billy Plimmer is now training at Frank Class' Hotel, Pine Brook, N. J., for his com-ing fight with Tommy Kelly, the Harlem

Tommy Ryan and Danny Needham were matched to fight two weeks from date before the California Athletic Club for $5,000 a side and the largest purse ever offered by the Billy McCarthy, who was beaten in this country by Bob Fitzimmons and Jack Dempsey, lately beat Ted White in London. He hugged White until he tired him out, and then finished him.

THE TURF.

Do we saddle our horses too close to the animal's shoulders in this country and does not that fact account for the number that annually break down before the season is was asked which foot on a thoroughbred was the last to leave the ground while uder full headway by Joseph Cairn Simpson, and replied, the hind foot of course. He assured me that I was wrong and convinced me of the fact by means of a series of instantaneous photographs taken at Palo Alto. Running, walking or cantering, there is one time, only an instant to be sure, that the entire weight of a horse rests on the left forefoot. Now we saddle our horses just as close up to the withers as we can and the jockeys ride almost on the necks of their mounts. This brings the weight squarely on the leg in question, and barring an accident, such as being jumped on, for instance, it is in this leg that our race horses invariably break down. Now in saddling their ponies you will notice that the cowboys invariably put the saddle on as nearly to the middle of a horse's back as they can, tying their blankets and camp outfit on behind them. With the saddle thus adjusted, these ponies handle 200 pounds and over with more ease than our thoroughbreds handle their lightest weight, and for a horse to break down with them is a rare occurrence." Most race goers have doubtless wondered at seeing the jockeys riding so nearly on a horse's neck, and there is probably a large modicum of truth in Mr. Hankins' observations. It might perhaps be a good plan for some horseman to try the plan of adjusting the saddle that has been adopted by the cowboys, and the success or failure of the experiment would be eagerly watched by horseowners. In both tengland and Australia they saddle farther back than we do and in both of these countries the breaking down of horses has been reduced to a minimum.

JOCKEY GEORGE COVINGTON RETIRES.

JOCKEY GEORGE COVINGTON RETIRES. Few jockeys have as much business instinct as George Covington, the elder of the well known Kansan brothers whose work in the saddle have made them famous throughout the country.

George has been in the saddle for a number of years and has saved his money. He now weighs 150 pounds and will hardly ride any more, excepting in welterweight races. He has accepted the position of foreman for Green B. Morris, for whom he rode last year, and will in addition take an active part in the management of the firm of Covington & Kent, manufacturers of racing plates of all kinds. George paid $10,000 for half the patent and the firm has established quarters in New York City. Messrs, P. J. Dwyer & Son have lost Oxford.

The stables at the East St. Louis Jockey

Club course are now filled completely and some forty horses that are participating in the races over there are quartered in the imstalls are occupied and the management are seriously thinking of leasing an adjoining plat of ground and erecting some additional stalls. Secretary E. W. Sinclair received a dispatch yesterday from Henry Simon, the well-known turfman, announcing that he would ship his string, consisting of some sixteen head, and asking that stables be reserved for them. Simon operates one of the best stables on the Western Circuit. Faithful, Shibboleth, Red Sign and Profligate are tried performers who raced under the Simon stable colors last year. Mr. and Profligate are tried performers who raced under the Simon stable colors last year. Mr. Sinclair also received dispatches announcing that the James stable, consisting of ten horses, and the Lyle & Foreman string of sixteen would also arrive within the next few days. Altogether some forty head are expected and Manager Joe Ullman is in a quandary as to where he will stable the new arrivals.

IMPROVEMENTS AT WASHINGTON PARK.

The Washington Park authorities of Chicago announce they will expend $50,000 this spring in improvements, one of which will spring in improvements, one of which will be the enlarging of the grand stand by the addition of 135 feet to its length. This will give room for 3,000 new seats. Bridges from the entrances to the stand will be built so that spectators will not be obliged to force their way across the carriage path or squeeze through the betting ring. Sheridan will be the starter. Joseph J, Burke will be the pre-siding judge with Clint Riley as his asso-clate.

BASE BALL GOSSIP.

John Sullivan, the North St. Louis amateur outfielder, has a number of offers to enter tife professional field next season. He will in all probability be found with one of the Western Association, or Wisconsin State League teams the coming season.

Ad Gumbert will be a member of the Chicago Club again this season. He arrived in Chicago yesterday and he and Anson had a talk last night at the latter's house. Gumbert will get the salary he received last year, which was $2,500, and a bonus of $250 for signing.

which was $2,500, and a bonus of $250 for signing.

President Williams of the Western Association announced yesterday that pitchers Ferson, Bishop and Stevens, first-baseman Billy O'Brien, and outfielder Pabst had been signed. "Altogether," said Williams, "we have fifteen pitchers, five catchers, eight first-basemen, six second-basemen, five third-basemen, two shortstops and thirteen fielders under contract."

Herman Long, the great Roston short-stop, fielders under contract."

Herman Long, the great Boston short-stop, passed through this city yesterday on his way to his home in Chicago. He has been "boling out" at Hot Springs, and is in spleadid condition. After a few weeks rest in the "windy city," Long will depart for Boston. He is of course enthusiastic over Boston's team, and claims the bean-eaters will again be found in front at the close of the coming season.

It is well-known that ranges made of wrought, malleable and gray iron are in every way superior to stoves and ranges made of cast iron. Their advantages are so many that it is difficult to enumerate them; a few of the many being strength, durability, economy of fuel, ease of management and good baking qualities. This being true, it would seem that they ought to have come into more general use, and, in our opinion, would long since have taken the place of every other cooking apparatus, had the prices heretofore demanded for such goods not been beyond the means of all but the wealthy, Knowing the great and increasing demand for a good honest wrought iron range at a moderate price, we completed patterns with a view to supplying this demand, making their manufacture a special feature of our business in connection with our wonderful Majestic Hot Water Heater. In completing these ranges we use the very best material btainable, making them up to the highest standard of perfection.

They are sold to the trade only, and the consumer can buy from his dealer the very best range made at a price very little above that of what is called "a good cast iron range or stove" of same capacity. We adopted for this range the name Majestic, and in its majestic proportions, symmetrical form and perfect construction it goes forth from
